Unveiling Latest Artifact Donation: The Whitman Family Bible

On November 14, 2014, Walt Whitman Birthplace Association was proud to accept the Whitman Family Bible donated by Natalie Swertfager Pearson, widow of Walter Whitman Swertfager, who was the great-great-grandson of Mary Elizabeth Whitman, Walt's beloved sister.

Mary received the Bible from Walt as a Christmas gift in 1878. Mary lived on the North Fork of LI in Greenport, and Walt visited her often. On two interior pages, Walt inscribed their immediate family births, marriages and deaths up to that time.

Also donated was a lock of hair of Walt's mother, Louisa Van Velsor Whitman.

Executive Director Cynthia Shor and Docent Margaret Guardi traveled to Florida to accept the donation. They videotaped Natalie's formal dedication since she was unable to travel. For the unveiling, Natalie's daughter, Sharon Wilson, and Sharon's daughters, Nicole and Stephanie, came from Florida. They conveyed their mother's great satisfaction at having the Bible returned to Walt's homestead. To honor Natalie and her family, a brick has been placed in the WWBA Commemorative Poetry Circle.

Huntington Town Supervisor Frank Petrone led the unveiling with many officials in attendance. Also invited were Whitman Family descendants, and 25 Whitman relatives held a Family Reunion after the ceremony. The Bible exhibit is on display at the site.

Yusef Komunyakaa selected 2015 Poet in Residence

Yusef Komunyakaa began writing poetry in 1973 and received his bachelor's degree from the University of Colorado Springs in 1975. His first book of poems, Dedications & Other Darkhorses, was published in 1977, followed by Lost in the Bonewheel Factory in 1979. During this time, he earned his MA and MFA in creative writing from Colorado State University and the University of California, Irvine, respectively.

Komunyakaa first received wide recognition following the 1984 publication of Copacetic, a collection of poems built from colloquial speech which demonstrated his incorporation of jazz influences. He followed the book with two others: I Apologize for the Eyes in My Head (1986), winner of the San Francisco Poetry Center Award; and Dien Cai Dau (1988), which won The Dark Room Poetry Prize and has been cited by poets, such as, William Matthews and Robert Hass, as being among the best writing on the war in Vietnam.

The annual Poet In Residence is proudly sponsored by NYSICA (through HAC). Each year the program features revered and distinguished contemporary poets who continue to embody Walt Whitman's spirit of democracy, diversity and creativity.

He will officiate at the Whitman Birthday Celebration on May 30th and 31st, 2015.

From the Director's Desk

Greetings, Members and Friends!

As our Newsletter indicates, we are busier than ever enacting our mission to preserve and promote the legacy of Walt Whitman. Our recent member survey indicated a high interest in historic programs. Coincidentally, 2015 marks the historic sesquicentennial of the Civil War's end in 1865. During the Civil War, Whitman administered to wounded soldiers and he captured these experiences in Drum Taps. Using Walt's book, and many others, our Program Committee responded to your survey and fashioned a series of five programs entitled WAR WORDS WISDOM: A Veteran Experience Series, sponsored by John & Penny Barr.

The Civil War, WWII, Vietnam, and Iraq are explored in this Series through the words of veterans. Long Island has the highest percentage of veterans in the country and we aim to create dialogues, give thanks and give back to veterans and their families. All programs are free and open to the public. Spread the word to community veterans and invite them to join you in attending. We are collaborating with Huntington who is also celebrating the sesquicentennial with multiple events, notably, the kickoff and reception at the Soldiers & Sailors Museum on April 17th.

Please continue to enjoy our signature Literary events, enriched school programs, and social activities. The Board and I thank you for your support which enables us to give back to the community. Please embrace the "Pride of Donorship" and pay it forward through sponsorships, donations, volunteering, attending. We appreciate your generosity and we hope to see you soon. Happy Spring!
